Job Description

Context:

First Nation reconciliation and upholding land claim agreements are priorities in the planning process. It is important that the process fulfills the spirit and intent of the Yukon First Nations' Final Agreements, in general and specifically as related to Chapter 11 of the Tr'ondëk Hwëch'in Final Agreement.

The Commission is an independent board composed of six citizen planners, appointed under the THFA.

In June 2022, the Commission submitted their Recommended Regional Plan to the Government of Yukon and Tr'ondëk Hwëch'in (the Parties) for their consideration. The Parties are requesting modifications to the Recommended Plan and the Commission will soon begin working on these modifications.

Role:

Reporting to the Senior Land Use Planner, the Land Use Planner assists with a variety of planning tasks for the Dawson Regional Planning Commission, within the parameters of Chapter 11 of Tr'ondëk Hwëch'in Final Agreement (THFA). The Land Use Planner will support the continuation of the regional planning process which may include involvement in implementation of the approved plan.
